SPRING and NATIONAL BUBBLES WEEK!

Spring has finally sprung...and not a moment too soon. Has anyone else been suffering from cabin fever? The first day of Spring also marks the beginning of National Bubbles Week.

To celebrate I'll be performing at schools and libraries and scouting events and even a shopping mall this week. You can view my online calendar using the link to the left.

The Time is NOW!

Some of you are speakers and authors and entertainers too.

Others dream of doing the same.

Want to know how I've built my business?

One of my mentors, John Childers, is conducting an amazing teleseminar:

I've attended John's events and he's the real deal!

I was surprised by many of the things he revealed

Email of the Month

"Geoff was the highlight of our holiday party and kept a roomful of kids enthralled, not only with his bubble skills, but with his humor, passion and even the life lessons he sprinkles in along the way. Thanks to the magic he brings to the show and his ease with kids, my shy 3 year old who was adamant he wasn't stepping inside a bubble was one of the first to jump up at the end to do so!"

Dr. Laura Berman, LCSW, PhD Director of the Berman Center.

Some of you know Dr. Berman from her radio show and her appearances on Oprah! Learn more here: Dr. Laura Berman

Bubble Wonders to the Rescue in Louisville, KY!

Back at the end of January I was scheduled to perform some school assemblies and two services at the Unity Church in Louisville, Kentucky as part of my month-long tour through the southern states. Right before I left Chicago, Louisville was slammed with an horrible ice storm.

Every school rescheduled their assemblies because city-wide power outages shut down all the schools for the entire week! Many people were without power and sought refuge in emergency shelters set up by the Red Cross and other organizations.

So, I did some research, contacted the major shelter and headed to Louisville a day early in order to perform for all those families who were forced out of their homes and suffering from cabin-fever at the shelter.

about the industry.

He'll teach you how to:

Find the right market for you

Learn how to create your own info products

Adapt your own
public speaking style

Avoid mistakes
other speakers make

Learn how to promote and sell your business and products.

...and much more.

The services at Unity the next day were great. In fact, after I finished the last service I looked up to see everyone in the congregation up on their feet. That's right, your's truly, received his first standing ovation!

As Rev. Susan EngPool said, "I believe people were just so ready to hear a positive message after what they've been through with the ice storm."

Quote of the Month

"Geoff, your show was even better than I could ever have imagined. Thank you for allowing us to sponsor your shows at the Discovery Center Museum." Debra Van Driest, Senior Vice President, US Bank

Dolphin Bubble Love!

Finally, in celebration of National Bubbles Week, I close with a little "bubble love" in the form of this special video link. Several of you sent me YouTube clips of Dolphins playing with bubbles and I have seen some of those clips before but nothing prepared me for this:

I hope you've enjoyed this month's newsletter. Please feel free to pass it along to friends and family. Your colleagues also appreciate recommendations from people like you.

Do you know someone who needs educationally significant school assembly/library programs that both encourage kids to read and inspires the child inside us all?

Send them an e-mail about www.BubbleJuggler.com or feel free to forward my newsletter to them.

Thank you for all your support and feedback!

With Light, Love and Laughter,
